UNIZIK MANAGEMENT EXPRESSES ZERO TOLERANCE FOR BIOMETRIC ATTENDANCE

The Management of Nnamdi Azikiwe University, Awka has called for more seriousness on its staff adherence to biometric attendance.

In a circular to the community dated January 17, 2020 which was issued by the Registrar, Barr. Philomena I. Okoye, members of staff were advised to take biometric attendance seriously as sanctions will be meted out to late comers beginning from the end of January, 2020.

The Registrar, however noted the various excuses given by staff for not taking the exercise serious, such as the claim that the power is not effective or that the machines are not perfectly functional. She rather warned that queries will henceforth be issued to defaulters and more severe disciplinary action taken when and where necessary.

VC CALLS ON FRESHMEN TO SHUN VICES

examination misconduct.

"The University does not condone examination misconduct in any form and takes strong disciplinary action as soon as it is detected. You are not allowed to sit for any examination for anybody or ask someone to write any exam for you. You're not allowed to talk to anybody except the invigilator", he warned.

The Vice-Chancellor advised that students must attend at least 75 percent of lectures before they are allowed to sit for the examinations. Secret societies or cultism, he warned are banned in Nigerian universities and are not tolerated at all in UNIZIK.

He equally urged them to avoid such vices as rape, robbery and fighting among other things so that they will have a successful career in the University. The VC also counselled the students to use opportunities offered by the institution for conducive learning which includes work-aid scheme, which offers indigent students financial assistance, group personal insurance scheme, well equipped common rooms for relaxation, etc.

Present at the flag-off of the Orientation course include the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic), Prof. Frederick Odibo; the Registrar, Barr. Philomena Okoye; the Bursar, Mrs. Joy Ojukwu; the Dean of Student Affairs, Prof. Nonso Achebe; the Director, Academic Planning, Prof. Joseph Ikechebel; the Chief Security Officer, Mr. Lawrence Okeke, among others.

The Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Charles Esimone, FAS has charged new students of the University to refrain from vices which will be inimical to their continued stay in the institution. The Vice-Chancellor gave this charge while addressing the students at the 3-day Orientation programme organized for them.

Prof. Esimone harped on certificate forgery and mutilation of any form. In his words, "If the certificates you submitted at the Admission Office are forged, my candid advice to you is that you pack your bag and baggage and leave now."

He further stated that there is a standing Senate Committee that does the verification and if any certificate is forged or mutilated even for one subject, the student will be expelled and handed over to the police.

He informed the students that the installation of Close Circuit Television (CCTV) cameras in examination halls has intensified as the institution frowns sternly at any form of

TETFUND RELEASES ADDITIONAL GUIDELINES FOR CONFERENCES /ATTENDANCE INTERVENTION

Additional guidelines for conference attendance intervention have been released by the authorities of the Tertiary Education Trust fund (TETFUND).

ROTARY CLUB DECORATES VC WITH PAUL HARRIS FELLOWSHIP AWARD

The Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Charles Esimone, FAS has been decorated with a Paul Harris Fellowship award by the Rotary club. The award presentation was made during the courtesy visit of the Awka chapter of the club led by Prof. Uche Nwogwugwu.

Presenting the award to the Vice-Chancellor, the District 9142 Chairman on Peace and Conflict Resolution, Rotarian Chike Ekwueme, commended him for his developmental strides in the University and for his support to charity not just in Rotary, but in diverse ways. Rotarian Ekwueme noted that the club has continued to partner with various units within the University especially the anti-cult unit where billboards addressing ills such as cultism, indecent dressing, and maintenance of clean environment have been erected at strategic points in the institution.

He equally disclosed that efforts are in top gear with some foreign based partners to send medical equipment to the varsity's medical centre. The Vice-Chancellor in his remark expressed gratitude to the club on the honour bestowed on him, stating that this would spur him to do more. Prof. Esimone thanked them for the support and growing partnership, encouraging them to continue in the light of Rotary's mission and vision towards dispersing hope to the less privileged.

Earlier in his remark, Prof. Nwogwugwu, thanked the Vice-Chancellor for identifying with Rotary especially his immense support towards the eradication of Polio.

UNIZIK LECTURER BAGS DOUBLE FELLOWSHIP AWARD

The Nigerian Society of Engineers (NSE) and the Nigerian Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (NIEEE) have bestowed Fellowship award on Engr. Dr. Oseloka Augustus Ezechukwu of the Department of Electrical & Electronics Engineering.
